DISTRICT MISSION STATEMENT

We value each individual and their potential to change. As effective agents of that change, we provide excellent service to our clients and the courts, creating a safer community through the fair administration of justice. Our guiding principles are Dedication, Empowerment, Idealism, and Integrity.

DISTRICT SUMMARY

The United States Probation & Pretrial Services Office for the Northern District of Texas is a learning organization. We encourage each other to use our strengths to explore opportunities for meaningful personal, professional, and organizational growth. We expect, and support, team members to continue developing throughout their careers. We recognize that individuals have varying talents and passions, and we seek to match roles, responsibilities, and opportunities to individual strengths, while still meeting the mission of the organization. We believe that leadership is a shared responsibility of all team members, and we expect team members at all levels of the organization to lead from where they stand. We encourage creativity and ingenuity in problem solving.

This district is geographically one of the largest in the United States. We are a combined probation and pretrial services district, serving a one hundred-county area, bordering the states of Oklahoma and New Mexico. These counties also extend to approximately ninety miles from the Mexico border. Our headquarters office is in Dallas in the Earle Cabell Federal Building. We also have offices located in the Federal courthouses in Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Abilene, San Angelo, Lubbock, and Amarillo. Texas is among the most tax-friendly states in the U.S. with residents enjoying no state income tax.

The successful applicant(s) should possess, or be capable of acquiring, through in-house training, the skills, talents, and knowledge to succeed in all three officer disciplines: Pretrial Services, Presentence Investigation and Report Writing, and Post-Conviction Supervision, and would be required to work in at least two of the three disciplines. Officers may be required to travel to other divisional offices and destinations for work related reasons. Officers must have the ability and availability to work during evening hours as needed. Officers must have access to a car for travel when a government car is not available and be legally authorized to drive. This position will be in the San Angelo office in the Northern District of Texas.

Job responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- Conducting investigations and preparing reports for the court, including pretrial and presentence investigation reports.
- Interpreting and applying policies and procedures, statutes, Federal Rules of Criminal Procedures, U.S. Sentencing Guidelines, Guides, and relevant case law.
- Enforcing court-ordered supervision components and implementing supervision strategies.
- Maintaining personal contact with defendants and persons under supervision. Investigating employment, sources of income, lifestyle, and associates to assess risk and compliance.
- Addressing substance abuse, mental health, domestic violence, and similar problems and implementing the necessary treatment or violation proceedings, through assessment, monitoring, and counseling.
- Responding to judicial officers' requests for information and advice.
- Testifying in court as to the basis for factual findings, policies and practices and guideline applications.
- Applying evidence-based practices through authoring Presentence and Bail Reports and in the management of a supervision caseload, including risk assessment and application of manualized supervision techniques such as cognitive based treatment, motivational interviewing, and/or STARR.
- Documenting case activity in a thorough and professional manner.
- Ensuring statistical information is accurately reflected in case management systems.
- Conducting records research and retrieval to obtain required documentation.
- Performing other such duties as required.

CLASSIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

Professional line positions involve analyzing and evaluating varied information from multiple sources, forming conclusions, and taking or recommending courses of action. They require the application of theoretical and practical knowledge in a professional field at a level that requires specific academic preparation as a minimum for performance in the field.

U.S. Probation is an Equal Opportunity Employer

Completion of a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university in a field of academic study, which provides evidence of the capacity to understand and apply the legal requirements and human relations skills involved in the position.

In addition to meeting education requirements, applicants at each grade level must also have additional education or specialized experience as outlined below.

“Specialized Experience” is defined as: Progressively responsible experience in such fields as probation, pretrial services, parole, corrections, criminal investigations or work in substance/addiction treatment, public administration, human relations, social work, psychology, or mental health. Experience as a police, custodial, or security officer, other than any criminal investigative experience, is not creditable. Nor is time as a Probation Services Technician creditable.

To qualify for a CL 25 probation officer position ($51,419 - $82,322), one year of specialized experience is required or, completion of a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university and one of the following superior academic achievement requirements:

1. An overall "B" grade point average (GPA) equaling 2.90 or better of a possible 4.0.
2. Standing in the upper third of the class.
3. 3.5 GPA or better in the major field of study, such as business or public administration, human resources management, industrial relations, or psychology; or
4. Election to membership in one of the National Honorary Scholastic Societies meeting the minimum requirements of the Association of College Honor Societies, other than Freshman Honor Societies; or
5. Completion of one academic year (30 semester or 45 quarter hours) of graduate work in a field of study closely related to the position.

To qualify for a CL 27 probation officer position ($59,732 - $97,098), two years of specialized experience or completion of a master's degree in a field of study closely related to the position, or a Juris Doctor (JD) degree is required. If the applicant qualifies for a CL 27 utilizing education as a substitute for experience, the incumbent will be ineligible to progress to the CL 28 level until two years of specialized experience has been achieved.

To qualify for a CL 28 probation officer position ($71,583 - $116,394), the incumbent must have two years of specialized experience, including at least one year equivalent to work at the CL 27 level.

MINIMUM POSITION REQUIREMENTS

- Skill in conducting legal research related to complex and difficult legal issues.
- Skill in analyzing and summarizing legal concepts and issues.
- Skill in legal reasoning and critical thinking.
- Ability to follow safety procedures.
- Ability to compile and summarize information within established time frames.

U.S. Probation is an Equal Opportunity Employer

- Ability to organize and prioritize work, work independently with little or no supervision, and exercise discretion.
- Knowledge of and ability to assess risks and needs and apply evidence-based practices to effectively supervise cases.
- Ability to work under pressure of short deadlines.
- Ability to interact and communicate effectively (orally and in writing) with people of diverse backgrounds.
- Skill in the use of automated equipment including mobile devices, word processing, spreadsheet, and database applications, and various other types of software.
- Ability to be innovative and creative to contribute to a positive work environment.

COURT PREFERRED SKILLS

Preference will be given to applicants who can demonstrate the following: Two years specialized experience with an emphasis in case management related to probation, pretrial services and/or parole, or through work as a child protective services investigator, forensic accountant, computer forensics investigator, or any other career involving criminal investigation. This includes preparing presentence reports for the court and/or supervising defendants/persons under supervision. Supervision experience should include knowledge of evidence-based practices in community corrections, including, but not limited to, risk assessment, risk-based supervision, and cognitive behavioral treatment.

HAZARDOUS DUTY REQUIREMENTS

Prior to appointment, the selectee(s) considered for this position will undergo a medical examination, credit and criminal history check, drug screen, and a 10-year scope background investigation. Upon successful completion of the credit and criminal history check, medical examination, drug screening, and 10-year background investigation; the selectee(s) may be appointed. In addition, as a condition of continued employment, the incumbent(s) will be subject to ongoing random drug screenings, updated background investigations every five years and, as deemed necessary by management for reasonable cause, may be subject to subsequent fitness-for-duty evaluations.

The duties of probation and pretrial services officers require the investigation and management of defendants and persons under supervision who present physical danger to officers and to the public. In the supervision, treatment, and control of such individuals, these duties require moderate to arduous physical exercise, including prolonged periods of walking and standing, physical dexterity and coordination necessary for officer safety, and use of self-defense tactics. On a daily basis, officers face unusual mental and physical stress because they are subject to danger and possible harm during frequent, direct contact with individuals who are suspected or convicted of committing federal offenses.

Officers are covered by the special retirement provisions of the Hazardous Duty Act for law enforcement officers. Retirement is mandatory at age 57 with at least 20 years of hazardous duty experience, which requires all officers to be appointed before reaching age 37.

U.S. Probation is an Equal Opportunity Employer

The incumbent(s) will be required to train for up to six weeks at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center located in Charleston, South Carolina, within the first year of employment.
